There was snother fine crowd out at Charles Street park-yesterday, and they had a barrel of fun.

Omaha tore off St. Joe's scalp. It was a lively game from start to finish, characterized by some colessal hitting, some good head work, plenty of errors and, best of all, the Rourkes wen.

Winfield Scott Camp was In the points for Omuha, a fact that materially assisted her to victory. Whenever St. Joe needed a hit, a nice liner-say out over short or past McVey-Winfield would put on that Mephistophelistic smile of his, gave the ball an extra twist or so, and lo, a Saint would kick the bucket every time.

It was tough luck for Kuelsley's lambs, but better they should have it than the Rourkes.

They had their dose the day before. At the end of the third inning the score stood Omaha 1 and St. Joe 9. The crowd was in the sulks, for another certain defeat stared them in the face.

Up to the fourth inning Bristow, the exOmahog and the Missourians' stellar twirler, did excellently, but in the fourth the Rourkes pulled on their batting duds, and not only knocked him out of the box, but over the Rnocked him out of the box, but over the fence and into the river.

Ten hits, with a total of eighteen bases and thirteen runs, was the color of it.

Then Cole came in from middle field, while Bristow went off and crawled under the barn to die. But Cole wasn't much of an improvement, for when Pa's boys got through with him they had just twenty-one tallies, and St. Joe had but fourteen. Langsford, the new shortstop, played a circus game, making four hits, three of them two-baggers, and having five put outs and six assists. That was pretty clever playing, eh? Hutchison had a terribly off day, but he has every indication of a first-class man, and will yet show the natives how the bag is played.

Billy Moran has quit playing ball—he's too strong-and Papa was again forced into And maybe he didn't play. He got two men by long, accurate throws from right field, made three hits, two of them of the timely kind, over the fence, that warms the cockles of the crank's heart and fills the summer air with glad acclaim.

Server, was the Yankee Doodle of the gang, however, when it came to handling the wagon tongue. He was at the bat six times wagon tongue. He was at the bat six times and made two homers, two doubles and a single. Pedroes, too, was up six times and made five hits, three of them two-sackers. Boyle and Camp also batted magnificently and Kid Fear caught a faultless game. By the way, if you can point out a better back-stop in the country than this same Kid, you want to straighten out you finger immediately. Don't notice any stolen bases credited to St. Joe, do you?

Crews Making Great Preparations for the Storm Lake Regatta. STORM LAKE, Ia., July 10.—(Special to The Bee.)—There is much interest taken in all the Iowa aquatic cities just now in the anticipation of the coming regatta of the Iowa State Amateur Rowing association. The regatta this year will be held July 18 and 19 at Storm Lake, a new location. New cities have been interested, and the regatta this year will be the most exciting ever held, because in the veins of the crews flows mostly new blood. The lake averages about two and one-half miles in length, bending slightly in the form of a bow, and the city, being located about in the center of its northern bank, directly overlooks the lake across its width. The course is almost directly in front of the boat club house, which is an exceedingly pretty one, supplied with a large collection of the best class of boats. The course this year will be a quarter mile turn and return, and all races will be rowed in heats, best two in three. This method has been tested and has been found to give the best satisfaction to the spectators. By this method that always furnishes what a crowd most desires—excitement. All these races will be rowed in less than three minutes and they will be more exciting than a horse race or a base ball contest.

It is generally conceded that Dubuque and Sloux City will divide honors in the events. They are both on the Illinois Central and this year have succeeded in creating greater enthusiasm than usual. Oitumwa will send a senior double who will make the other fellows pull hard, but the Coal Palace city does not expect to win any laurels. Dubuque is especially strong this year, although one of their best men was compelled by urgent business to leave the city last week, and one of the crews has been sick. The entries, however, will be as follows: Senior four, Stapleton bow, Hawkins 2, Norman 3, Lindsay stroke; Junior four, McFarland bow, Maclay 2, Alderson 3, Smith stroke; junior pair, McFarland bow, Smith stroke; junior pair, McFarland bow, Smith stroke; junior single, Stapleton and Lindsay; Junior single, Stapleton and Lindsay; Junior single, Stapleton and Lindsay. the Iowa State Amateur Rowing association. The regatta this year will be held

Lindsay; junior single, Stapleton and Lindsay.

Of the above crews Stapleton and Hawkins were in the Dubuque victorious four at Lake Geneva (the International regatta) last year, where they won the lowa state prize for fours. The Chicago Nayy has never delivered the medals yet, nor have the Subuque boys ever got Lack their entrance money in full yet.

Sioux City is well prepared for the regatta. They will enter all the sweep events and possibly all the sculling events as well. The senior four consists of Currier, flouch, Richards and Kneedler, Richards has been a member of the crew of the University of Wisconsin, and is a valuable addition to the crew. He is strong, heavy and in good form. The junior four is Sawyer, Holmes, Blood and Claypole, They are all athletes and of the most magnificent forms. Harry Gouch and Ed Currier will row in the senior double race. They are both experienced carsmen, have won in

But these crack fleets will more than likely find a surprise in store for them in the shape of some unknown crews from McGregor, McGregor is the home of the veteran G. R. Turner, who has been in every regatta since the war and who has a son who is old enough to show his father some points on new fangled sculling. Mr. Turner has reorganized the McGregor club and has a lot of youngsters whom he declares will simply strike terror into the hearts of the city fellows from Dubuque and Sloux City. Ottumwa will also enter a junior double and senior double, which will keep the other oarsmen pulling hard from start to finish. The senior double will include Ed Kilby, the best amateur single sculler in Iowa, and Gus Lyons, who is as strong as an elephant and as quick as a federation of mule heels when on a strike. Gus has been in a number of races, but has always lost because of his inquisitive Inclination to get into all the water that belongs to the other crews. McCullough and Lyons will row in the junior doubles, and Lyons will row in the junior single. Cedar Rapids and Burlington will be represented, but only by old boatmen, who will go into the crews just to make the race interesting. Big Ben West will be there, of course, and a number of other crack scullers, and if they conclude to go into a shell they will make it exceedingly dangerous for the colts. The reason Cedar Rapids has not shown up in more splendid form is that the big dam on the Cedar at the Rapids was washed out this spring and now, instead of having one of the finest stretches of water in the state for rowing and pleasure, Cedar Rapids has very meager facilities in this regard. Burlington, although for different reasons, is in very similar shape. The crews there have been taking very little interest in racing matters and are not in first-class form.

The races will occur July 17 and 18. The junior event is to occur on the first day and the senior on the second day. J. E. Hannegan, president, writes from New Yo But these crack fleets will more than likely NEW YORK, July 10.—Races at Brighton Beach:

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR THE BRITANNIA Vigilant Loses the Fourth Race with the

the Race. HUNTERS QUAY (Firth of Clyde), July

10 .- With a very light wind blowing across the bay and the prospects bad for yacht racing, the yachts Vigilant and Britannia started this morning in the race for the Clyde Corinthian cup, valued at $300. The course was the now familiar one of the Royal Clyde Yacht club-from mark boat No. 1, off this place, across the bay to and around mark boat No. 2, off Skelmorlie, on the opposite shore; thence back across the bay and to and around the mark boat off Ascog, Isle of Bute; from there around the mark boat off Kilcreggan and back to Hunters Quay mark boat; twice around this course, making the total distance of fifty miles.

The Britannia did not get over the line until three minutes after gun-fire, 10:33, and the Vigilant glided over three minutes behind. The race became more interesting as the two boats approached the Cloch shore, for the breeze had freshened with promise of holding on all over the firth. Passing the Cloch lighthouse, they stayed to starboard, almost together, standing a good way into Lunderstun bay before turning.

The Vigilant's sails were far from being in good order, the main sail especially setting awry. On the short tacking up to Wemys castle the positions of the two yachts were virtually unchanged. The Vigilant was under the Britannia's lee beam. At the Skelmorlie mark boat the Britannia was two minutes, forty-three seconds ahead of the Vigilant, the widest gap shown in any of the races sailed by these two yachts. The lat-ter pulled up well in the run to Ascog mark Passing Innelan the Vigilant was taking the Britannia's wind and there was not a length betweeen them. The Vigilant went ahead off Lunderston bay, the Britannia crossing under her stern. At the Kilcreggan mark boat on the first round the Britannia again had the lead by twenty-seven seconds and she passed mark boat No. 1 at the end of the first round fifty-six seconds ahead of the Vigilaut. On the second round the Britannia gradu ally increased her lead and won easily. the time allowance of three minutes, the Britannia defeated the Vigilant by eight minutes and fifty-two seconds.

Y. M. C. A. and the Bourkes. A series of three games has been finally arranged between the Y. M. C. A. team and the Omaha Western association There are not a few among the cranks of the city who believe that the Christians the city who believe that the Christians are able to give the professionals a few pointers about the game, and the series will be watched with much interest. The Y. M. C. A. has walloped, with one exception (the Detroit Western league), every team that has been opposed to it this season, and some of these have been strong.

The first game of the series will be played next Monday, July 16, at 2:45 p. m. at the Charles Street park. The second game will come off on August 13, on the Y. M. C. A. grounds, and the date of the third is August 23, but the grounds for this game have not been decided upon.

MAKING IT PLEASANT FOR GOULD. Vigilant a Neat Reception

HUNTERS QUAY, July 10 .- George J. Gould was the guest last evening of the Royal Clyde Yacht club at its club house here. Replying to a speech by Secretary York of the Yacht club, Mr. Gould ex-York of the Yacht club, Mr. Gould expressed the warmest appreciation of the cordial reception which he had met with in Scotland and jocularly remarked that it was too bad to show him the cups which the Vigilant had not won. Mr. Gould added: "I came here for sport, and I thought the Vigilant would be able to win a few prizes. But I am afraid that I have found the boat here which will not let her do so. I don't grumble at the weather, but all I ask for is a good breeze, and if we have a good breeze tomorrow the Vigilant will show you some sport."

Mr. Gould's manly remarks elicited rounds of applause and the clubmen all joined in singing "He is a Jolly Good Fellow."

The singing was followed by repeated.
